

Tanglefoot Appalachian Cloggers Open Evening

17th November 7.30 – 9.00 pm Ash Village Hall TN15 7HB

Do you want to try out a fun and energetic style of dance?

We perform a style of percussive dance from the Appalachian Mountains in the South-Eastern United States. It is related to many other dance styles such as Irish stepping, English clog dancing and modern tap dance. We are lucky enough to dance to a live band that plays traditional old time tunes (think: O Brother Where Art Thou?). You may have seen us dancing at festivals in Rochester, Faversham, Tenterden etc.

We practise every Monday evening in Ash Village Hall, Ash-cum-Ridley.

We are always being asked whether we teach so we are planning to run some beginners classes. Come and visit our open evening to see whether this style of dance is for you.

What do you need? Energy and a pair of tap or hard soled shoes. Come along and give it a try.

Musicians: Do you play a stringed instrument? Why not come along and play with our band?

For more information see our website:
<http://www.tanglefootcloggers.co.uk/>

Or phone: Ann on 01634 405840 for more details.